HOBSON'S CHOICE

by

HAROLD BRIGHOUSE

Thursday 25th February to Sunday 21st March 2010

Set in Salford in the 1880's, an overbearing and argumentative small town shoemaker Henry Horatio Hobson believes he can inflict his every whim on the world at large, especially on his three increasingly truculent daughters.

But who wins in this spirited battle of wills - Maggie, Alice, Vickey or Hobson himself?

A heart-warming Victorian comedy and one of the great English plays of the twentieth century, Hobson's Choice is a joyful and compelling exploration of human relationships.

This new production is directed by one of London's busiest young directors Thom Southerland whose recent productions of Oklahoma, Mack and Mabel, Rent and The Full Monty at the Broadway have earned rave reviews.

Tickets: £8.00 - £13.50
